NAPOLEON HILL'S SECRETS TO SUCCESS?

How can you achieve success in your life or your business? Success is much easier to reach when you decide and focus on what it will mean to you. How do you measure it, how do you know when you achieve it, what would it look like, and why is this important to you? These are key components of the process described in Napoleon Hill’s classic book “Think and Grow Rich.” To date one of my favourite books!

The book teaches you how to save the wasted effort that the majority of people expend in trying to find their life-work through a series of lessons.

Lesson one focuses on desire and goes through the steps of not just having a wish or dream, but a definite purpose. It’s having the focus and stubborn determination which will get you from where you are now to where you want to be, turning that desire into reality.

More importantly, Hill walks the reader through the secrets of success, which are not biased based on background, education or circumstance. In fact, there are several key secrets that distinguish those who achieve from those who don’t.

Hill explains that Faith allows one to prepare one’s mindset for failure since failure is inevitable on the road to success.

The secret to auto-suggestion, another lesson he dedicates a full chapter, focuses on not only what one believes but also on the monetary value of what they want to achieve, even down to dollar amount.

In specialised knowledge the reader is introduced to the fact they don’t only need to focus on learning, but specialise in gaining knowledge in what they don’t already know.

It follows that on the route to learning and growing, one must become an excellent follower before showing initiative and taking the lead. But there are certainly qualities a leader must possess to master organised planning, decision-making, and self-control.

Indeed, Hill makes the argument that positive and negative emotions cannot occupy the brain at the same time. As a leader, one has a choice to determine how to master the subconscious mind and control positive versus negative thinking.

In conclusion, the last few paragraphs skim only the surface of the six steps to mastering fear and turning your desires into reality.

If this summary reminded you of what you need to do, then you might want to dust off your old copy and re-read the book again.

Good luck

ICONIC BUILDING OF THE MONTH

Designed by famous American architect Frank Lloyd Wright in 1934, Falling water is quite possibly the most famous private residence in the world. But why?

Well, the unique design makes it look like the house stretches out over a 30ft waterfall, with no solid ground beneath it.

This isn't the case, obviously, but the innovative design captured everyone's attention when it was finalised in 1939.

It became famous instantly and is now a national historic landmark. It's so cool you can even get a Lego version of the architectural masterpiece!

“Life is what happens to you while you’re busy making other plans.”
